

TO ALL OF YOU

As we come to the end of this bizarre year, we would like to thank each and every one of you for the great job you have done to help get us through it. Your support has been exemplary and we are sure that our customers also appreciate your part in the continued supply of our service to them, and respected all the various additional hygiene protocols they have asked of us.

Sadly, we have had to say our farewells to some much loved and respected colleagues but they were all treated fairly and went with our thanks and best wishes. We would have preferred not to have had to do it, but the harsh reality of our shredded sales left us with no alternative. One regret was that we could not keep our promise, not to make anybody redundant in 2020. Some of our colleagues, however, did ask for certainty despite this promise, and we fulfilled their wishes,

December is the month of the shortest day and at least from here on in we can look forward to longer days and we hope, the end of the nightmare that is Covid – 19. Let us hope that the various vaccines do what they are supposed to do, and start the process of seeing off this deadly virus. Time will tell.

Everybody has their own personal story of challenges you have had to face during the year, but deal with them you have and in the process learned a lot about yourself, family and friends. Covid is no respecter of position or status. There have been numerous acts of kindness, by all of you during the year, which you should never forget and be proud of.

This has been a decade of historic events. It started off with the tail end of the financial crisis, then there was Brexit, a major challenge on its own, which is still not resolved and finally Covid – 19. Each event in its own right is huge and would tax any Government to get everything right.

So now we are approaching a new Decade and let us hope that by Easter we will be seeing normality start to return.

Enjoy the Christmas and New Year holidays.
